

BUSINESS RISK MANAGEMENT LTD

50 ways to enhance the ERM process

Why you should attend

- Most organisations have developed an Enterprise Risk Management process.
- My experience has, however, shown that very few have embedded ERM seamlessly into the business culture.
- The continuing turmoil in the world should have taught us that all organisations need much better mechanisms to anticipate, manage and control risks on an enterprise-wide basis
- By enhancing the ERM process, new understanding of the key risks risk will emerge, and efficient controls can be implemented to tackle what really matters to the business
- Risk management can then be transformed into a business enabler rather than a process for evaluating failure

Attending this webinar will help you to

- Implement 50 proven ways to improve your ERM process – the vast majority of which, will not already be in place
- Deliver a risk management process that engages all stakeholders
- Directly link risk management with Strategy setting and deliver more informed decision-making
- Identify over-managed as well as under-managed risks
- Re-evaluate your attitude to and appetite for risk taking.
- Determine a specific target for each risk
- Transform risk management into an agent for positive business change.
